Poetical.

The Sun and the Rose.

BY ALICE GRAY.

The sun, who smiles wherever he goes,
Till the flowers all smile again,
Fell in love with a bashful rose
That had been a bud till then.

So he pushed back the folds of the soft, green hood,
That covered her modest grace,
And kissed her as only a lover could,
Till the crimson burned in her face.

But wo for the day when his golden hair
Tangled her heart in a net,
And wo for the night of dark despair,
When her cheek with tears was wet!

For she loved him as only a maiden could,
And he left her crushed and weak,
Striving in vain with her faded hood
To cover her guilty cheek.

Shelter.

AN ENGLISH BURLESQUE.

BY C. S. CALVERLEY.

By the wide lake's margin I marked her lie—
The wide, weird lake, where the alders sigh—
A young, fair thing, with a shy, soft eye;
And I deemed that her thoughts had flown
To her home, and her brethren, and sisters dear,
As she lay there watching the dark deep mere,
All motionless, all alone.

Then I heard a noise, as of men and boys,
And a boisterous troop drew nigh.
Whither now will retreat those fairy feet?
Where hide till the storm pass by?
One glance—the wild glance of a hunted thing—
She cast behind her; she gave one spring,
And there followed a splash and a broadening ring,
On the lake, where the alders sigh.

She had gone from the ken of ungentle men!
Yet scarce did I moan for that;
For I knew she was safe in her own home then,
And the danger past, would appear again,
For mine was a water-rat.

JUDGE BLACK'S LETTER.

The following is the text of the letter of Judge J. S. Black, in answer to one addressed him by Mr. W. H. Welsh, of the Baltimore Gazette:

To William H. Welsh, Esq., Editor of the Baltimore Gazettee:

MY DEAR SIR:—I promised the gentleman who delivered your letter that I would answer it fully and as I could consistently with other engagements, I am fulfilling that promise. If I take more time and space than might be expected, you will please to remember that I and a great many other Democrats are in a position which requires something more than a mere definition. We cannot avoid misconstruction without furnishing a rather full explanation.

I admit that the next President must be Grant or Greeley. The circumstances of the political situation limit our choice to these two men, as strictly as if nobody else were legally eligible. We must weigh them against one another, and, like practical men, decide the case before us in favor of the best. Even if we find no good in either of them, we must take that one who shall appear to be least bad.

It is undeniable that the leading measures of this Administration are not only unconstitutional, but anti-constitutional, showing not merely a contemptuous indifference to constitutional obligations, but a settled hostility to those rights of the States, and those liberties of the people, which the organic law was made to secure. The President's appointment of officers and his general exercise of public authority, under the influence of men who paid large sums of money, are scandalous outrages, and the effort to defend them has combined with other like causes to extinguish among his subordinates all respect for those rules of morality which used to be held sacred. When we consider what these men have done in the North, and add to it the large-handed robberies perpetrated in the South by the retainers of the President, with his direct aid and assistance, we are compelled to acknowledge that no other government now in the world is administered so entirely for personal and partisan purposes, or in such complete disregard for the rights and interests of the general public. This demoralization is not confined to the Executive branch; the tide of corruption rolls in upon the Legislature, and in some places it has risen high enough to touch the feet of the Judiciary. Even the rank and file of the President's party have become debauched, let us hope not altogether, but certainly in fearful degree. Acts, which in former times a hardened criminal would hesitate to whisper in the ear of his accomplice, can now be openly advocated by a political leader, not only with safety, but with a tolerable chance of being sustained by a sort of public opinion. The love of liberty and justice which used to pervade the whole community now "reneges all temper," and yield without resistance to the unprincipled demagogues who would enthrone fraud.

"Make the hoar leprosy adored; place thieves,
And give them title, knee and approbation,
With Senators on the bench."

If General Grant had been equal in mind and heart to the exigencies of the times, he could have easily made himself a great public benefactor. He might have purified official and political morals by simply setting the example in his own person of a clean-handed devotion to duty. His own obedience to the laws would have restored them to universal supremacy. All the objects of the Constitution as recited in the preamble would have been accomplished but for the obstructions with which he himself impeded them. Unfortunately the interests of certain rings were in conflict with the interests of the country, and they, by large presents seduced him into their service. The public contracted to give him the salary which his predecessors had been content with; the rings offered him more; he accepted their bounty, fell over to them, and took the Government into his hands as a "Black Republican job."

Now, as to Greeley. It cannot be pretended that his political life is very symmetrical. He was in the ranks of the radical Abolitionists for a good many years. That is bad; for such associations would have a natural tendency to debase him. But we must not forget that, though he was with them, he was not always of them. He refused to be a partaker in their worst iniquities; he had none of their diabolical hatred for the Constitution; he did not lend his lips to their ribald blasphemies, and his feet were never swift in running to shed innocent blood. Before the great conflict began, his opposition to the designs of the Abolitionists against the Federal and State Governments, impelled him to the opposite heresy of the secessionists. Like the Roman father, who killed his daughter to save her from worse fate, he chose to destroy the Government rather than see it dishonored and violated by lawless force. When the war was flagrant, he provoked the extremest rage of his associates by exerting himself for a peace which would have left all the people in possession of their constitutional liberties. After the close of the contest, he was the advocate of regular and legal, as well as honest government for all parts of the country. I have good authority for saying that he never gave his approval to any form of kidnapping, or murder, by military commission. In short, although he did join the Abolitionists in their "devil's dance," he never learned to keep step with his partners, and we all know that when he could not stop it, he left it and denounced it with becoming indignation.

On another point he ought to have credit. The friends of religious freedom owe him an old debt of gratitude for the zeal and ability with which he resisted the church-burners when banded in the secret lodges of the Know-Nothing order. It is but reasonable to believe that his opposition saved the country from the great danger it was once in of being subjugated by that infamous organization.

He has often been accused of complicity in cheats of one kind or another, but in every case he has triumphantly refuted the charges. For this, and for other reasons I conclude that his personal integrity is without a stain.

He has many times spoken of the Democratic party and its most honored members in harsh and abusive terms. These are faults of manner, and of temper, which, when mended, are always pardoned. We will not permit our judgment to be disturbed by considerations so trifling as this.

I have looked into his past history only to ascertain what he is now and what he is likely to be in the future. I am to care nothing for "antecedents," except as they furnish the means of estimating his character. I think I have found out with reasonable certainty how far we may confide in him. I devoutly believe that, if chosen President, he will keep his oath, preserve the Constitution inviolate, execute the laws faithfully, restore the States to their rightful autonomy, protect individual liberty by jury trial and habeas corpus, put the military in proper subordination to the civil authority, use neither force nor fraud to carry elections, keep his hands clean from corrupting gifts; set his face like a flint against all manner of financial dishonesty, purify the administration of justice as much as in him lies, maintain the public credit by a prompt discharge of all just obligations, economise the revenue and lighten taxation, give to capital the right which belongs to it, and at the same time see that labor is not robbed of its earnings. He will certainly hold his power of appointment as a public trust, and not as a part of his personal possession to be used for the support of his family, or to encourage the private liberality of his friends. He will, so far as he can, without transgressing the limits of his legal authority, relieve the Southern States from the gangs that are now preying upon their vitals in open partnership with the present administration.

I think he will do all this; and my faith is founded on the testimony of his friends and enemies, on the known facts of his history, and on the moral influence which the Democracy will necessarily exert upon his conduct. The errors of his past life were caused by certain evil communications from which he has clean escaped. He heads a great revolt against wickedness in high places, and I do not believe he will go back upon us and be guilty of the same wickedness himself.

The contrast between the two candidates being so very strong, no fair-minded Democrat can doubt what he ought to do. Yet, the reluctance which many of us feel to vote for either of them is hard to overcome. I did, and I do, most heartily sympathize with that class which received Mr. Greeley's nomination in much sorrow. I am sure this feeling proceeded from no unworthy passion or prejudice, but was the natural result of sober thought on the condition of the country and the fitness of things pertaining thereto.

In our view the controversy between the parties was not all about men, and not wholly on questions of mere administration. The liberal Republicans and some Democrats think that we owe all our sufferings to the corruption or incapacity of General Grant and the rings that surround him. But the prime cause lies further back and deeper down in wrongs for which the triumph of Mr. Greeley with all his reforms offers no immediate atonement and only a partial remedy.

In England, after every civil commotion, the victorious party vented its rage and gratified its capacity by passing bills of attainder, and bills of pains and penalties against their fallen and helpless opponents. The best and greatest men of their respective ages were the victims of these legislative decrees. In all the most notable cases subsequent Parliaments acknowledged the wrong, reversed the attainders, and made what reparation they could. Our fathers determined no such thing should ever be done here, and so they put their solemn interdict into plain words, and made it a part of the fundamental law that neither Congress nor any State Legislature should ever pass a bill of attainder.

The reconstruction act of 1867 was a Bill of Attainder more deliberately cruel, and with pains and penalties more compendiously unjust than any British bill that ever was passed. But its authors were conscious that it could not stand, and they must replace it with something else, for sooner or later the courts would be sure to pronounce it void. Besides the object being to put the Southern people under the domination of greedy adventurers from the North with unlimited license to oppress and plunder them, the officers of the army were not very good agents in such a nefarious business. The negroes would be instruments of tyranny much more easily managed. But an act of Congress disfranchising the white people for offenses real or imputed, and handing over their State Governments to negroes to be run by them in the interests of carpet-baggers, would be merely another Bill of Attainder, or rather a modification of the first one making it much worse, but equally within the reach of judicial correction. In this strait they resorted to the expedient of converting the Constitution itself into a Bill of Attainder.

The Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments were frauds upon the spirit and letter of the instrument, inasmuch as they effected the worst outrage which it was made to prevent. They were carried against the known will of nearly every State in the Union by shameless deception in the North, and by brutal violence in the South. "May this be washed in Lethe and forgotten?" Certainly not as long as any portion of our people are compelled to bear the intolerable burden of the yoke thus fastened upon them. I need not say how much they have suffered already, nor try to conjecture how much they will be called to endure hereafter; but it is certain that any ordinary despotism would have been a visitation of mercy in comparison. When we reflect upon the number and rapacity of the thieves that have been upheld in their pillage by means of the negro governments, we cannot help but regret the non-adoption of Mr. Stevens' proposition, atrocious as it was, for universal confiscation. The pernicious consequences of this rule are felt in the general as well as the local governments. The legislation of Congress is largely controlled by fit representives of the carpet-bag interest, and the worst acts of the Executive administration are done to please the power which corrals the negroes at the meeting places of the leagues, and drives them thence to the polls.

Mr. Greeley's election will not do all that we could wish to free us from these evils. It will not even be a popular condemnation of the base means by which they were inflicted upon us; but it will begin the process of their gradual extinction. It will give the white people a reasonable hope that the heritable qualities of their fathers' blood may some day be restored. In the meantime, if it does not reverse the attainder, it will at least secure a merciful execution of it. Democrats who dislike Mr. Greeley's nomination have reflected well, and I think will support him with almost perfect unanimity. The thought that a victory will not give us every thing at once may diminish in some degree "the rapture of the strife," but it will not impair the efficiency of their support, for they are impelled to their utmost exertions by a profound conviction that nothing but his election will save the country from a long period of misgovernment and perhaps the total destruction of our free institutions.

I am with great respect, yours, &c.,

DELIGHTING IN MERCY.—It is related that during the first few days of the reign of Queen Victoria, then a girl between nineteen and twenty years of age, some sentences of a court martial were presented for her signature. One was for desertion. A soldier was condemned to be shot, and his death warrant was presented to the Queen for her signature. She read it, paused, and looked up to the officer who had laid it before her, and said; "Have you nothing to say in behalf of this man?"—"Nothing — he has deserted three times," said the officer. "Think again, my lord," was her reply. "And," said the gallant veteran, as he related the circumstances to his friends, (for it was none other than the Duke of Wellington) "seeing her majesty so earnest about it, I replied that he was certainly a bad soldier, but there was somebody who spoke of his good character, and he may be a good man for aught I know to the contrary." "Oh, thank you a thousand times," exclaimed the youthful Queen; and hastily writing "Pardoned" in large letters on the fatal sheet, she sent it across the table with a hand trembling with eagerness and beautiful emotion.

A Blackberry Bush Growing in a Lady's Mouth.

A dentist in Delaware city is responsible for the following: A lady having had a tooth extracted, accompanied with considerable laceration of the gum, returned about three weeks after the operation, complaining of shooting pains in that portion of the mouth, with a feeling of swelling in the gums. Supposing it merely the effects of the shattered condition of the jaw-bone, the doctor told her it would soon pass away, advising some soothing lotion. Three weeks later the lady returned, insisting upon it that a new tooth was growing in the place of the old one, upon which the dentist made a more careful examination, when he discovered two primordial leaves of a blackbury bush, and upon extracting them, found that fibres an eighth of an inch in length had forced themselves into the pulpy flesh. The lady then recalled the circumstance of having eaten blackberries with cream the evening following the operation, and supposed that one of the seeds had found a lodgment in the soft wound, where it had germinated and developed. If that don't beat Grant or any other man nothing will.

A RURAL reporter says a procession timed their steps "to the dulcet notes of the millow drum." Mellow drum is good.

The Boy who Swallowed a Music Box.

It was an awful fate for such a little boy. His father had bought for him a miniature music box which played four tunes. It was long and narrow, and not much larger than a ten cent note. So one day, just after the music box had been wound up, Thomas got to fooling with it, and placed it in his mouth, and accidentally swallowed it. When Thomas went down to dinner, certain strange strains of mysterious music seemed to be wafted from under the table, and the food became cold while the family groped around on the floor trying to discover whence the sound came. But the truth was discovered at last. While the family was at prayers that evening Thomas got the hiccups, and the music box started off all of a sudden, with "Listen to the Mocking Bird." Whereupon his father rose from his knees, and grasped Thomas by the hair, and shook him up a lot, and asked him what he meant. They tried their best to get the music box up, but it stuck fast, and every time they would pour some new kind of an emetic down Thomas' throat the machine would give a sort of fresh spurt, and grind out 'Home Sweet Home,' or 'Thoul't Never Cease to Love.' And so they were compelled to permit that music box to remain upon the interior, and it made him miserable, because just as likely as not while he was lying asleep in bed in the middle of the night, the melody works inside would begin to revolve and would play "Kathleen Mavourneen" for two or three hours, unless the peg happened to slip, when it would switch back again on "Listen to the Mocking Bird," and rattle that tune out until Tommy's brother would kick him out of bed in wild despair and make him feel miserable. And the same way when he went to church. Very likely, right in the midst of the most solemn part of the service, when everything was hushed, that undigested harmonicon would give a preliminary buzz and reel off "Thoul't Never cease to Love." And it will kill him. Unless that music box can be got out Thomas will die.

BELSHAZZAR SMITH had a very bad and very dangerous habit of walking in his sleep. His family feared that during some of his somnambulistic saunterings, he would charge out of the window and kill himself; so they persuaded him to sleep with his little brother William, and to tie one end of a rope around his body and the other end around the waist of little William. The very first night after this arrangement was made Belshazzar dreamed that a burglar was pursuing him with a dagger, so he crept over to William's side of the bed, stepped over William's slumbering form, jumped out on the floor, and slid under the bed. He stayed there awhile, fast asleep; and then his nightmare having changed, he emerged upon the other side of the bed, and got under the covers in his old place. The rope, it will be observed, was beneath the bed; and it was pulled taut, too. Early in the morning Belshazzar, about half awake, scrouged over against William. To his surprise the movement jerked William clear out of bed. Belshazzar leaped out to ascertain the cause of the phenomenon, and at the same time his brother disappeared under the bed. Belshazzar, hardly yet awake, was scared, and he dived beneath the bed; as he did so, he heard William skirmishing across the blankets, above his head. Once more he rushed out, just in time to perceive William glide over the other side. Belshazzar just then became sufficiently conscious to feel the rope pulling him. He comprehended the situation at once, and disengaged himself. And perhaps little William was not mad! He was in the hospital undergoing repairs for about three weeks, and when he came out he had a strange desire to sleep alone. Belshazzar anchors himself now to an anvil.—[Max. Adeler.

Richness of Michigan Soil.

A man in Detroit gave me some idea of the richness of the soil in that vicinity. He said there wasn't any place on the earth where things grew as they do there. He said his wife never made bread. She always made little biscuits the size of an egg, and she would leave them an hour to swell by themselves, and they would grow into twelve pound loaves. I thought to myself you are a loafer. He continued his growing tale, and said:

"Once there was a man. He went into the woods and chopped down four trees. He used the four stumps for corner posts, and he built a nice log house on those stumps. Then he and his family went to bed in the house.—The next morning he found himself and family up 60 feet in the air, with a lot of Indians down cellar waiting to cut their hair off, and the Indians did scalp the whole of 'em."

"Stranger," said I, "you don't mean to tell me that those trees grew sixty feet in one night."

"Sir, I do," says he, "and not only that, they hoisted the house with 'em."

"Are you sure it wasn't sixty-one feet?" I asked meekly.

"Sir," said he, "I never prevaricate, especially on one foot."

"So they took and scalped them all, did they?" said I,

"They did," said he.

"How in the name of Mary who had the little lamb did they get up to 'em?" I asked.

Says he. "Respected sir, those Indians each one sawed off a tree; then each Indian sat on a stump, and those stumps grew the Indians up to the house and then they scalped the family."

A quiet little family circle in Utah consists of thirty-two wives and sixty-eight children, and when they all gather around the hearth on winter evenings the effect is said to be indescribably cozy.

A MAN out west said he moved so many times during one year that whenever a covered wagon stopped at the gate chickens would fall on their backs and hold up their feet in order to be tied and thrown in.

Humorous.

A Kentuckian being asked how much corn he raised, answered "About ten barrels of whisky, besides what we waste making bread."

Another Nut for Hartranft.

The act of 1811 requires the Auditor General to

"The auditor general shall annually report to the legislature a list of the accounts which remain unsettled, and the reason therefor."—Act of 30th March, 1811, Sec. 50th.

In the Evans case we have seen that Hartranft openly disregarded this law by concealing from the Legislature for three years the fact that Evans had collected several thousand dollars belonging to the State.

But more conspicuous still is the fact that for six years he has allowed the corporations of this State to retain millions of dollars belonging to the commonwealth in the shape of taxes and never has reported the facts to the Legislature. A committee at the last session of the Legislature, composed of three Republicans and two Democrats, unanimously agreed upon a report in which it was demonstrated that the heaviest carrying companies are making no returns whatever of taxes due the State, and that the Auditor General's office had no information as to the amount due.

In one instance the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western R. R., owed the State over $33,000 as a tax on a dividend of $1,100,000 in the Morris & Essex road, yet it was not known at the Auditor General's office that such tax was due, although the fact of the dividend having been declared was published in the Auditor General's report of the year before.

This amount was promptly paid by the company, the day after the committee called attention to the subject, with the excuse that the blank form for furnishing the report had not been supplied by the Auditor General, although it had been demanded. The Auditor of the company testified that the amount stood to the credit of the State Treasury, and was ready to be paid at any time, and that the return of the tax due had been regularly made to the State Treasury.

A few facts will illustrate the immense loss of revenue to the State from the tax on corporations, since Gen. Hartranft took possession of the Auditor General's office.

We quote from the report of the subcommittee of last winter, which examined this subject, and take the D. L. & W. R. R., as an example.

1866, Tax on capital stock....	$198,951,12
1871, Tax on capital stock.....	54,681,11
Loss to the State.....	144,270,01
1866, Tax on gross receipts....	3,728,72
1871, Tax on gross receipts....	1,698,39
Loss to the State.....	2,030,33

This loss, too, occurred in the face of the fact that in 1866 the receipts of the company were $8,252,416.73, whereas in 1871 they were $11,709,146.97. In a word, the revenue of the company had increased three and a half millions of dollars, and the taxes of the State were decreased more than one half.

1867, (no report for 1866) Tonnage Tax.....	$8,177.90
1871, Tonnage Tax.....	1,685.84
Loss to the State.....	6,492.06

The above facts illustrate why the ring desire the continuance of Hartranft and Allen in office, and why Cameron & Co., are endeavoring to prevent a full and fair investigation. The people are being mercilessly robbed, and they now demand honest officers, and a full investigation of the books at Harrisburg.

New York settled its Tammany,—it is time we commenced at ours.

Honest men should have no doubt as to which way they should decide.

The Senatorial Conference.

Our Senatorial District is composed of the counties of Columbia, Montour, Lycoming and Sullivan. The candidates were Charles G. Barkley, Thomas Chalfant, Robert P. Allen, and George D. Jackson. The conference met at Williamsport on Thursday of last week, and each county was given equal representation, contrary to the rule of our county convention, and the resolution of the Danville Conference of May last. This and the action of the late conference to select delegates to the Constitutional Convention undoubtedly settles the question that a small county has a right to equal representation with a large one; that Sullivan with 1200 Democratic votes is equal to Lycoming with 4500.

The proceedings of the conference we give in another column. It will be seen that each county voted for its own candidate until the fourtieth ballot, then Montour voted for Chalfant, Lycoming for Allen, Columbia gave two to each, and Sullivan ended the contest by giving her four votes for Chalfant.

We are informed that the best of feeling prevailed, and that the defeated candidates cordially accept the situation.

The claims of Montour were undoubtedly stronger than those of Columbia and Sullivan, and having been thus recognized, we trust that all feeling of discord between us has been forever removed.

As to our nominee, he is so well known to our people that we can add but little. For three years he represented our county in the Legislature faithfully and with ability, gaining a reputation as an honest member, and the opponent of rings and corporations. We expect him to keep in the same track now, and do not believe he will dishonor the position to which he will undoubtedly be elevated. His constituents will anxiously watch his course, in the full belief, however, that in the future they will have no reason to regret their choice.

Governor Bross said, a few days ago, to a New York reporter, that "Illinois is as safe for the Liberal ticket as New York itself is."

THE Democratic Conference of this Senatorial District met at Williamsport on Friday, August 23d. The following gentlemen were present as delegates:

Lycoming County—John A. Craig, Jacob Eggert, Henry White, Hubert Fleming.

Columbia County—John G. Quick, John Leggett, Hugh McBride, Mordecai Millerd.

Montour County—Hiram Antrim, G. P. Richard, George W. Miles, Ira Stettler.

Sullivan County—Michael Meylert, Chas. C. Finch, John G. Wright, R. J. Thomson.

An organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

President—J. G. Quick, of Columbia county.

Secretaries—Michael Mayiert, of Sullivan, and Geo. W. Miles of Montour.

On motion of Gen. Fleming, the conference proceeded to the business for which it had assembled, and Mr. Gamble nominated Robert P. Allen of Lycoming county.

Mr. Leggott nominated Charles G. Barkley of Columbia county.

Mr. Meylert nominated George D. Jackson of Sullivan county.

Mr. Miles nominated Thomas Chalfant of Montour county.

The nominations were then declared closed and the first ballot taken which resulted—

For Mr. Allen—Messrs. Gamble, Taggart, White and Fleming—4.

For Mr. Chalfant—Messrs. Antrim, Richard, Miles and Stettler—4.

For Mr. Barkley—Messrs. Quick, Leggott, McBride and Millard—4.

For Mr. Jackson—Messrs. Meylert, Finch, Wright and Thomson—4.

Thirty-two more ballots were had, each resulting precisely the same as the first, and the conference then adjourned to meet next morning.

The Conference re-assembled on Saturday and proceeded again to ballot for a candidate for State Senator. Six additional ballots were had—making thirty-nine in all — without any change whatever from the first one. On the fortieth ballot the four Sullivan county conferees and two of the Columbia county conferees joined those of Montour for Mr. Chalfant, and the other two Columbia county conferees joined those of Lycoming for Mr. Allen, making the ballot stand

For Mr. Chalfant—Messrs. Antrim, Richard, Miles, Stettler, Meylert, Finch, Wright, Thomson, McBride and Leggot —10.

For Mr. Allen — Messrs. Gamble, White, Fleming, Taggart, Millard and Quick—6.

Mr. Chalfant was declared duly nominated and the conference adjourned.

WAS THIS BRIBERY?—One of the most serious charges yet made against President Grant comes from the Chicago Tribune, than which there is no newspaper of higher character in the country. One J. Russell Jones, of Chicago, wanted a foreign appointment, and did not know any better way to get it than through Grant's cupidity or love of gain. At this time a Swedish colony owned considerable land in Illinois, some of which lay in the confines of Chicago, and rapidly growing in value. The trustee of this colony was induced to sell about 80 acres of the land to Jones for a low price, and they say without authority, and Jones conveyed it to Grant for the sum of one dollar, the deed being put on record at Chicago, by which the transaction appears. About this time Grant appointed Jones Minister to Belgium, where he now is to the disgrace of the country. The President has not denied the "soft impeachment." If this is not a case of bribery we do not know what is.

THE great head-centre of corruption and fraud, Simon Cameron, is now in Washington, disgracing the Republican party of the country by acting as the chairman of its National Committee. His presence there is more dangerous to General Grant than would be a Democratic victory in Maine.—Press.

One of the advantages of the present rule in the South appears in the cost of collecting the revenue. In Illinois it costs two and in New York it costs three cents to collect a dollar; but in North Carolina it costs ten cents, in South Carolina eighteen cents, in Texas twenty-four cents, and in Arkansas twenty-seven cents to collect a dollar. This is one of the financial felicities of the carpet-bag dynasty.

NEWS

The steamer Nevada, of the Philadelphia and Hartford line, took fire while anchored off the mouth of the Thames River, on Long Island Sound Sept. 13, and was burned to the water's edge. The captain and crew escaped in the boats. The loss will not exceed $75,000.

A terrible Indian massacre is reported in Colorado. On Monday last, a Government train of 36 mule teams, loaded with army supplies for Fort Lyon, under command of Stephen Bryan, was attacked by 200 Arapahoes in Dry Creek Valley, between Carson City and the Fort. The wagons were plundered and burned, the mules carried off, and 15 men belonging to the train left killed or wounded on the ground. Bryan was flayed alive by the savages. Fifteen other men are missing. It is said the train was under the escort of Lieut. McFarland, with several hundred cavalry, but the escort was nine miles in the rear at the time of the massacre.

Judge Dent, the President's brother in-law assaulted Henry Reed one of the editors of the Washington Capital on Monday last and was arrested and held to bail for the assault.

J. W. Killinger has been nominated for Congress by the republicans of Schuylkill County. He is also the nominee of the labor reformers.

Hugh Marra, the accomplice of James Dougherty and Neil M'Laughlin in the assassination of Detective Jas. Brooks, the assassinator of Alderman M'Mullin, and the participant in many other crimes, was arrested in Philadelphia last week and held in $10,000 bail.

The steamer Metis, of the Providence line, while on her trip from New York to Providence, was struck by an unknown schooner about four o'clock last Friday morning, six miles from Watch Hill, R. I., and sunk almost immediately. A portion of the vessel drifted ashore with a number of passengers. The Metis had on board 101 passengers about one-half of whom it is hoped are saved; but the details of the occurrence are yet imperfect.

Dr. Jewett, a well-educated and eccentric old gentleman, of North Haven, Me., committed suicide in his office on Friday last in a very extraordinary manner, by severing the femoral artery in both his thighs, and then setting fire to a canful of kerosene oil which he had poured over the floor of the room. He was found undressed, weltering in his blood in the midst of the fire, and died immediately.

There are reports from all portions of Alabama of unparalleled destruction by the cotton worms. The worms are said to have left the fields "as bare as after a frost," and the planters are in fear of bankruptcy.

The republican Convention of Centre county met at Bellefonte August 28th and nominated ex Governor Curtin for Congress by acclamation.

Sixteen attempts have been made by convicts to escape from the jail at Blackwell's Island, above New York, within three days.

The steamship Bienville, which left New York for Aspinwall on August 10th, was burned at sea on the morning of the 15th ult. Most of the passengers and crew were saved by the boats, but about sixteen are known to be lost.

It is stated that the Western Iron and Nail Association, at a meeting in Pittsburg, on Friday, decided to advance the price of iron $4, and of nails, 25 cents per keg.

Campaign Notes.

D. C. Cloud, of Muscatine, Ia., twice elected Attorney-General of that State, now supports Greeley and Brown.

Twelve of the Republican members of the Ohio House of Representatives have turned their backs on Grant.

Four of the Republican State Senators of New York are outspoken Greeley men, and six more are sure to declare for Greeley before November.

The Cincinnatti Commercial states that ex Governor Stephen S. Harding, of Indiana, an original Republican, is out for Greeley.

Mr. Ely, the republican mayor of Norwalk, and Mr. Coffin, republican mayor of Middletown, Connecticut, are both out for Greeley.

Grant carried West Virginia in 1868 by 5,000 majority. This year the Grant men dare not even nominate a State ticket.

Lewis Peck, of Ontario county, New York, late United States Revenue Collector for that Congressional District, has declared for Greeley and Brown.

Colonel Milton Dana, of Wilkesbarre, one of the delegates to the Cameron State Convention which nominated Hartranft, repudiates Grant and has declared for Greeley.

It is in evidence, sworn to by Hartranft himself, that he received $7,000 from the embezzler, George O. Evans, as a "loan" which he did not repay to Evans until the public exposure of Evans' defalcation compelled him to do so.

W. M. Coburn, who was in 1868 elected Attorney General of the State of Indiana on the Radical ticket, has written a letter strongly endorsing Greeley, and stating that he will support him in the coming contest.

The Monroe County Republican, Richland County Independent, Waugawega Times Oconomowoc Times, Ripon Free Press, and Racine Advocate have come out for Greeley within the past ten days. All are Wisconsin papers.

Circulars inviting democrats to attend the Louisville convention are printed at the government printing office in Washington, are folded at the republican headquarters, and sent out under frank of radical congressmen. The whole expense is borne by federal officeholders.

William M. Coleman, republican attorney general of North Carolina, and a supporter of the Grant candidate for governor at the recent election in that state, has written a letter declaring his intention to support Greeley and Brown.

A letter to the Chicago Tribune from St Joseph, Mich., says "Last night we held a very large Greeley and Brown meeting, about 500 being present. Out of that number 400 joined the club. This town is all Greeley; there is hardly a Grant man left."

Communicated.

"The Ring Triumphant."

Under the above heading the "Republican" of the 15th instant proceeds to give an account of the Democratic County Convention of Columbia county of Tuesday before. I will not attempt to follow him through the whole —report if such he has the cheek to call it—but will leave all but the closing part, together with the "predictions," "Ring Combinations" and "Slaughterings" to others if they think best to notice them, giving as a reason that my limited residence in the county has offered me no data of such an organization; simply pass all this by saying that I supposed, and I base my supposition upon the minutes of the M. E. Central Pa. Con., that the editor of the Republican was a priest not a prophet. I thank the Republican not only for myself, but for the Democracy in general, for the compliment when he says, a delegate from Catawissa, who had evidently been schooled when Democracy was honest and outspoken, &c." Was this admission intentional or not? Was it not for the closing paragraph I should think it was, though possibly I am mistaken. "Two of said committee were avowed anti-Greeley men," "and at this juncture the mover of the resolution was entreated to withdraw his motion." This I declare not to be a fact. True, the motion was carried unanimously, and it was suggested to the mover by Peter Ent, that should withdraw the motion owing the heat of the day, and the latene of the hour. The committee was ordered, and appointed but declined to serve, even the mover himself, that "delegate from Catawissa, who was schooled when Democracy was honest." Now, Mr. Republican, if that is "DODGING" Greeley, I am willing to take the responsibility of the "dodge." That the whole move was made in the very best of feelings, and without any reference to the "managers' I am satisfied from this fact alone, if no other, that Peter Ent, together with the Cattawissa delegates adhered to Gen. Scott, till he withdrew, and then went over to Mr. Jackson. I think if the Republican man will attend to his own "Happy Family," he will have just about all that one individual need attend to these days, be he "Prophet, Priest or King." Democrats of Columbia county! Listen not to the voice of your political enemies—they would disarm you only to destroy. To be divided at this time is only to be destroyed. Possibly you and I too, personally, would have preferred other men as leaders in the national contest. But remember men are mortal—principles are immortal. Labor, therefore, for that which is immortal. Washington once said: "Gentlemen, I vote for measures, not men." Give us honest men to carry out just measures, and the country has nothing to fear. That the measures advocated by the Democracy at this time are just, is, I believe, admitted by all; and that the men pledged to carry out those measures if elected are honest, who doubts? E. M. T.

THE Northumberland County Democratic Convention met at Sunbury on Monday last. Simon P. Wolverton was nominated for delegate to the Constutional Convention, and Wm. L. A committee from the Liberal Convention waited upon a similar committee from the Democratic Convention, and expressed its willingness to support the ticket chosen by the latter.

THE BEST, CHEAPEST,
AND
MOST DURABLE PAINTS
now in use are the Montour Slate Paints.
They cover more surface, last longer and cost less than White Lead, the place of which they are very rapidly taking where economy, durability and beauty are desired.
I say what our Practical Painters say:
It gives me great pleasure to recommend your Slate Paints—as supplying a need we have long felt, and overcoming a great difficulty, which has long been acknowledged by all practical painters, namely the oxidation of White Lead, by the atmosphere, causing it to crumble or chalk off.
I am satisfied they will paint one-third more surface in a better manner than any other pigment I have ever used.

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, and, at last, the sufferer, which under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the publics as sovereign remedies, but it is the most powerful Tonic and alterative, prepared on by the best Chemical Authority of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

THERE were no less than fourteen arrests, for various causes, made in this town last week by constable Woodward, on warrants issued by J. J. Brower, Esq.

WE correct a late issue of the COLUMBIAN by stating that the Montour County convention nominated Jesse Ammerman for Legislature, and B. K. Rhodes for Congress.

THE meeting of Congressional Conferees of this District took place on Thursday but too late for their proceedings to be inserted in this issue of the COLUMBIAN.

WILKES-BARRE is to have a city hospital. It will be located on Canal street opposite the Wire Rope factory. The hospital will be free for the treatment of all accidents occurring in the mines. It will in no sense be a pest house nor a home for invalids.

WE are indebted to Samuel Neyhard Esq for the largest and finest flavored peaches we have seen this season, and which were grown by himself. He has a good assortment of young trees which have just begun to bear and he thinks their fruit will be hard to beat in a year or two.

IN last week's COLUMBIAN we gave an account of a theft of a horse and buggy from Chas. E. Savage of this place. The thief, who gave his name as William Steiver, was arrested in Sunbury the day following the robbery, and was committed to jail. Steiver is a German and stated that he was on his way to Philadelphia.

WE have been shown a potato vine, grown by Wesley Evans, of this town, which measures 10 feet 5 inches in length. Mr. Evans, we are told, calls the variety the "Greeley potato" from this evident disposition to increase and magnify. There will be a large crop of them this fall.

THERE is a very good reason why Grant's office-holders refuse to clasp hands across the bloody chasm. They have their hands so deep in the people's pockets and the Treasury that it is not convenient for them to clasp hands with anybody just now. They are afraid, if they withdraw their hands for that purpose, they will lose all opportunities for a grab at the public funds.

SOME time since we printed the prediction of a weather wise philosopher, that the first frost would occur this year on the 3rd of September. This prediction has proved a true one, in this region at least, for on Tuesday night last we had an undoubted frost plainly visible in this town. We are glad to know that some one has at last made a prophesy concerning this most remarkable year, which has proved itself correct.

AT a club meeting held in Light-Street on Friday night last the following officers were chosen, President, Alex. Bachman; Vice President, Joseph Vanderslice; Secretary, O. P. Ent; Treasurer, A. M. White. A large number of names were added to the list of members. B. Frank Zarr Esq addressed the Club.

THE Bradford Democratic Convention met in Towanda, on Monday last. The principal interest was centered in the Congressional nomination. Col. V. E. Piollett was nominated on the first ballot, the vote standing, Piollet, 61; Delos Rockwell, 31; Job P. Kirby, 5. After the nomination a committee was appointed to confer with the Liberal Republican committee on the subject of a county ticket. Col. H. B. McKean was nominated for Constitutional Convention by acclamation.

WILLIAM SHAFFER, one of our County Commissioners, met with an accident on Thursday of last week at Upper Lime Ridge which will probably prevent his attending to business for some time. He was attempting to get on his wagon when his foot slipped from the wheel, and he was thrown violently to the ground. He suffered most violent pain in the evening, and was so seriously ill as to require the attendance of a doctor. He is, however, recovering from the effects of the fall.

THE Court House was filled to its utmost capacity on Tuesday evening last on the occasion of the Democratic meeting held pursuant to announcement. Hon. Richard Vaux of Philadelphia was the orator of the evening. The meeting was called to order by David Lowenberg Esq. Chairman of the County Committee, when the following officers were chosen: President, Hon. Peter Ent; Vice Presidents, J. C. Smith I. K. Krickbaum, John K. Grotz, Joseph Pohe, E. J. McHenry, Michael Casey, Jacob Evans, Peter Knecht, Thomas Geraghty, Thomas J. Vanderslice, William Miller, Samuel Snyder, Samuel Diettrich, John Smith, David Herring, William A. Kline, John D. Hauck, W. H. Tubbs, Rolandus Herbein, Nathan Miller. Secretaries, Chas. M. Vanderslice, John M. Clark. Mr. Vaux spoke for about two hours in his usual fluent easy manner, on the issues of the campaign and made many happy hits which were heartily applauded.

SOME person with a statistical mind, has made a calculation from which it appears that the average age of the Grand Jurors of the present term of court, twenty-one in number, is 54 years.

"The Conspiracy." Under this gushing head the Republican dishes up an insipid article in defence of Hartranft upon the authority of "Senator Cooper." There is no "Senator Cooper" in Pennsylvania? Try again Daniel.

AN exchange says: "Fayette county, in some parts, is overrun with snakes. One girl killed sixteen copperheads in a single day, and it wasn't a good day for the varmints, either."

These snakes are very scarce near Bloomsburg this year, we are told, and the above paragraph would seem to explain where they have gone. We congratulate Fayette and make no charge for the transfer.

ON Tuesday last, Charles Mostellor of Mifflin township, had a valuable horse stolen from him, and on the same evening, presumably by the same parties, there was also stolen from James Kieffer, in Maine township, a buggy and set of harness. One hundred dollars has been offered for the recovery of the property, and the arrest of the thief.

A FATAL accident happened on Monday last at the stone quarry near what is known as "the dry saw mill," on the Danville road. Whilst the workmen were engaged in hoisting stone a link in the iron guy rod of the derrick broke causing the derrick to fall, and the rod in its descent struck a young man named Henry Kyler on the back of the head causing instant death. Kyler was about 27 years of age, and a resident of Huntington county. Several of the workmen had narrow escapes from the falling derrick.

THERE will shortly be published a most valuable work entitled "The Election Laws of Pennsylvania," digested and arranged with notes and judicial decisions to the year 1872, inclusive, by Hon. Francis Jordan, Secretary of the Commonwealth. This book should be in the hands of every one who takes an interest in the welfare of the State, and who desires an intelligent opinion of the important laws governing elections. The book will give the laws relative to the holding of elections, defining the rights of electors, fixing the powers of election officers, &c., and will be full and complete. Published by B. Singerly, State Printer, Harrisburg, Pa., to whom orders should be addressed. Single copies $1; twelve copies $10.

PURSUANT to notice a meeting was held in Cadman's Hall on Friday evening, August 30th, 1872, for the purpose of organizing a campaign club. The meeting was called to order by David Lowenberg, Chairman of the Standing Committee, who stated the objects and aims of the club. Robert F. Clark, Esq., was chosen President, Mr. Wm. Kreamer, Vice President, and F. Cooley Secretary. The Constitution and By-Laws were read and adopted. On motion it was resolved to hold the next meeting of the club on Monday evening, September 9th., at which time speakers would be present and deliver addresses, due notice of the same to be given in the form of hand bills and by publication in the papers. The meeting then adjourned.

MR. WILLIAM BUTLER, the landlord of the "Montour House" at Rupert, and well known to many of our readers, died at his residence on Sunday last, aged about 56 years. He had been in ill-health for several months, but had been better of late, and his death was sudden and unexpected. Mr. Butler was born in Queen's Co., Ireland, and came to this country some 27 years ago. For nine years he held the position of "track-boss" on the Catawissa railroad, and resigned it to take up the business of hotel keeping. About nine years since he married a widow, and to her and his step-daughter all his property, which was considerable, was left by will. Mr. Butler was a warm-hearted, generous, and charitable man, whose heart and purse were always open to the poor and needy, and no one in want was ever turned from his door. His large circle of friends will miss the jovial, cheery, generous dispenser of hospitality, and the poor will know that they have lost a friend.

AT about four o'clock on Thursday morning last, fire was discovered in the frame building on Main street owned by George Collamer and used as a bakery by Henry Rosenstock. Mr. D. W. Robbins who lives near the building, was the first to discover the fire and give the alarm. Owing to the want of water the flames obtained such headway as to render hopeless all attempts to save the house. The firemen were promptly on hand and, when water had been obtained, threw streams on the dwelling house adjoining the burning building on one side and on Gilmore's large new Restaurant on the other, both of which were saved. The contents of the building were mostly if not entirely saved. The building is supposed to be insured but, in the absence of Mr. Collamer, we are enable to state to what amount. The cause of the fire is not known.

We presume that the Town Council will talk vigorously about "the Holly System" and other plans for water works for a week at least—and that's all.

LOVELINESS ON THE INCREASE.—A marked increase of female loveliness is the eye-delighting result of the immense popularity which Hagan's Magnolia Balm has obtained among the ladies of America. Complexions radiant with snowy purity and tinged with the roseate hue of health are commonly met with wherever it is used. For the sallow and unwholesome appearance of the face and neck, which utterly counterbalances the effect of any personal attraction the owner may possess, it substitutes that clear, pearl-like complexion which is such a transcendant charm in woman, renders the roughest skin as soft as Genoa velvet. No one is more astonished than the person using it at the marvellous transformation which it effects in these particulars.

Important Testimony!

The following letters are among the many we are constantly receiving from persons who have been cured by

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,
Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic,
AND
Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Pennsgroves, Salem County, New Jersey.
FEBRUARY 27, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by the use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

Consumption has been hereditary with my family, most of its members having died of it at early ages. My mother and three brothers died at the age of 31, one brother at 27, and my sister at 14.

I was, when about 31 years, seized with liver complaint, which rapidly developed into Pulmonary Consumption. I was compelled to relinquish my employment (that of a peddler).

I consulted skillful and eminent physicians, and tried many patent nostrums, but without success, so that my friends were sure that there was no hope of my recovery, for I was reduced from 140 pounds to 100, and was not able to do anything without assistance.

By what I now look upon as a Providential Interposition, I was induced to try your remedies, and place myself under your treatment, and so rapid and thorough was my recovery, that it seemed as though some superhuman power was at work, and to-day I am as well as at any time during my life. I weigh 152 pounds, am 33 years old, and for some time have been regularly attending to my business, bidding fair to live to a good old age.

I am thankful to you beyond expression for having placed me in a position wherein I am a benefit instead of a burden to my family.

Your Mandrake Pills are the only medicine I ever use now. I think they are the best in the world.

I can refer you to hundreds of my neighbors who will verify all I have written, and any information any of my fellow citizens may desire will be freely and gladly given, upon receipt of stamp by

Yours, etc.
JOHN C. HEWITT.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 19, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. cor. Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Dear Sir—Please forward, per Express, six bottles Sea Weed Tonic and twelve bottles Pulmonic Syrup.

Your medicines are a such value that I cannot be without them in my household, and in fact no family should be without them.

I have given them a fair test, and openly declare them to be even better than you claim.

Very respectfully yours, &c.
W. A. WHITEHURST.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK:

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in awarding to you this certificate of the wonderful cure your Pulmonic syrup and Sea Weed Tonic produced. My throat and bronchial tubes were so highly inflamed that it was almost impossible for me to swallow my food.

Last week I went to my uncle, Mr. Charles Johnson, No. 32 Federal street, who says your medicines cured him from almost death after all other means had failed, and he having, therefore, full confidence in the virtue of your remedies, strongly recommended me to try them. I did so, and in one week from the time I commenced taking them my throat underwent a very great change for the better, so that I could eat my meals without any difficulty or pain. I can sincerely and warmly add my gratitude for the early relief your invaluable medicines produced upon me, and I deem it but an act of gratitude to give you the acknowledgement of my appreciation. Yours respectfully,
RACHEL M. JACOBS.

No. 10 West Thirty-third street, New York.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SEA WEED TONIC,
and MANDRAKE PILLS.

These are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Dr. Schenck has been in constant practice over thirty years continually examining lungs, and knows his medicines, if properly taken, will cure Consumption. His Mandrake Pills cleanse the liver and stomach; his Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, stimulates the coating of the stomach, and makes it digest. His Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter, and nature throws it off without any exertion.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, $1.50 per bottle, or $7 00 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

CATARRH.—a substitute for Castor Oil—is a physic which does not distress or gripe, but acts in its regular way, and all purgatives have failed, you may confidently rely upon the success in Stringer's Acme Combination Pills. Stringer's Acme Combination Pills contain no Calomel, being entirely Mercurial, but are purely a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, and acceptable to all persons to take. The Castoria sweetens and purifies the system, and produces natural sleep. It is a wonderful thing to accomodate the food of children and prevent them from crying. A thousand mothers will do the work for a month and save many doctors' bills. Aug 30-4w.

BLESSINGS BRIGHTEN AS THEY TAKE THEIR FLIGHT. The chief of blessings is good health, without which nothing is worth the having. It is always appreciated at its true value after it is lost, but, too often, not before. Live properly, and correct ailments before they become seated. For diseases of the liver, kidneys, skin, stomach, and all rising from impure or feeble blood, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are a sure and speedy remedy. It has never yet failed in a single instance. sept6

A PERFECT SUMMER.—Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its influence. The common phrase applies to this condition, of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility is a name for many and various forms of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach has lost its power to do the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, and requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is especially adapted to this purpose, its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere to which the fame of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is not a tonic, corrective, and anti-bilious medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is established, both by the people and the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the genuine and most vegetable stimulant in the World.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels. sept1

THE CORN COB HUMBUG.—Carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, combined in certain proportions, make a good food for producing fat, but the facts that a substance contains either or all of these elements does not make it a valuable food. Add nitrogen to the above elements, and we have the constituents of the nutritious foods. It is not the fact that an article contains these elements, which make it a valuable food, but the proportions and their mode of combination. Common rosin, for instance, contains carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, yet but a few farmers would care to adopt it as a diet for their cattle. Yet there are uses to which rosin is put for which wheat or corn would be of no value. Chemistry presents many curious contradictions; there are substances, which by analysis contain the same proportions, which are utterly dissimilar. Therefore, because a theoretical scientist finds that straw or corn cobs, or any other such stuff, contains a certain amount of carbon, nitrogen, and oxygen, he immediately publishes to the world that they are preferable, as food, to substances which good old-fashioned experience has proven of value. We knew a farmer once who acted upon just such nonsense, and it cost him about 10 cents a pound to fatten his pork on corn meal and corn meal mixed, while his neighbors fattened theirs on corn meal and potatoes at little over half the cost.

The next thing we shall hear is that corn-cob meal is the best food for dyspeptics, and some vegetarian fool will be urging everybody to scratch their stomachs with it. We think it will do very well to go with the sawdust brandy, an article about which is going the rounds of the papers, and we venture the opinion that the man who eats the one and washes down the dry compound with the other will soon be in the undertaker's hands.

Much more sensible is the idea suggested by some one that corn-cobs be used for fuel and the ashes be utilized for making potash.—New York World.

THE VALUE OF PUMPKINS.—Last year I raised twenty ox-loads of pumpkins with corn from an acre. The cart would hold forty bushels of potatoes.—I consider them a valuable feed for stock, taking into consideration how cheaply they can be raised. I undertook to dry in my apple dry-house some for market, and was offered five cents per pound. I found that a green pumpkin, weighing from fifteen to twenty pounds, would make about one pound of well-dressed dry pumpkin, and that it would pay better to dry them for hogs (as it could be done very cheap) than it would to sell.

I soaked the dry pumpkin in milk and fed the same to the hogs—they gained fast. I also dried quite an amount and barreled it to feed them this summer. I fed my sheep upon the green ones two months, and it did very much toward fattening forty, which I sold for mutton, and the forty which I wintered never did better. I commenced to feed my cattle in September, and fed some every day until February. It saved a vast amount of feed. I am planting but a small piece of corn, and wish to raise a large amount of pumpkins, so plant them with my early rose potatoes; their tops die early, which will let in the sun and give pumpkins a chance to grow.—Maine Farmer.

THRESHING.—If the grain is safe in the barn, says the Agriculturist, we should be in no hurry to thresh. It is not probable that wheat will rule permanently low during the next twelve months than at the present time. We do not say that it will be higher. We are not urging farmers to hold on to their grain, but simply not to be in a hurry to thresh, unless there is some object to be gained. Wheat keeps far better in the straw than in the granary, and it is far better not to thresh until the straw or grain is needed. But where grain has to be stacked, and where thatching is not practiced, it is better to thresh as early as possible.

SHALL WE GRIND GRAIN FOR Cows?—A correspondent says:

"If a cow in chewing her cud throws up all she eats and chews it over again, I do not see where the advantage is in getting corn ground at all to feed ruminating animals." The proof of that hasty pudding is in the eating of the corn by the cow. Feed her on whole corn, and you will find that, even in twice chewing, she does but indifferent work, and that much of the grain in her food is passed in whole kernels. Grind her corn for her; and a smaller quantity will nourish as well. Try the comparative experiment (under exactly the same circumstances) and you will satisfy yourself.

THE testimony of all the agricultural books, of all the scientific agriculturists, is, all of it, in favor of deep plowing and deep cultivation. To plow deep, is to renew the soil by bringing up to the light of the sun and benefit of the air, the riches which lie below. It is to afford to the growing plant more plant food and facilitate access to it. It is to provide drainage when the soil is wet, and moisture when it is dry.

ONE cord of wood cut and split fine and corded up beneath a shelter while it is yet green, will furnish more heat after it has become seasoned than two cords of the same kind of wood which have been continually exposed to the alternate influence of the storm and sunshine.

AN old and experienced farmer says that swelled jaws in sheep can be effectually cured by rubbing the jaws and mouth with a mixture made of alum and salt, equal parts of each.

IT is said that one of the most powerful remedies for botts in horses, is a strong decoction of sage tea, made very sweet. It dislodges the botts instantly.

To keep insects from hams, it is recommended to sprinkle each ham thoroughly with hickory wood ashes, and then pack in clean casks.

A CORRESPONDENT of The Pomologist says that he has found that potash placed in rat-holes and mole-runs will clear the house of these pests in short meter.

Christine's Dreams.

BY CLYDE.

Poor little Christine, she was so tired. All day long, she and her brother Franz had wandered up and down the hot and dusty streets of the great city; and no one had heeded their wistful faces; no one had listened to their childish voices. Now and then some kind hearted mother had stroked Christine's sunny curls, and said, "The child has a pretty face," but not one penny gladdened their little hearts.

That evening, as they walked sorrowfully along the country road that led to their cottage home, Franz said: "How sweetly the birds are singing, Christine!"

"O, Franz, well may the happy birds be singing, for they have all been fed, while we poor birds have sung the whole day long and have no bread," and the long pent-up tears flowed down Christine's cheeks like rain.

"Do not be sorrowful, little one," said her mother, as she bent over her low, white bed for a good-night kiss.

"Do not be sorrowful, little one," the winds seemed to repeat, as they rustled softly through the trees that sheltered the cottage roof.

All the voices of the night seemed to take it up, as they floated in at the attic window, with a low, sweet melody. And the melody more than the words, comforted Christine; for no matter how sad her heart might be, the slightest breath of music could always touch it to gladness, so passionately did the child love the beautiful spirit that was to crown her life with richest blessings.

It was a lovely summer night, and the evening star, rising over the purple hills, shone down through the attic window like a calm, sweet face. As Christine gazed with wonder at the star, she remembered her mother had once said that all the stars were worlds; and she thought that this star must be a very beautiful world, it looked so large and bright. "If that white cloud were only a boat," she said to herself, "that would carry me over the blue sky to the star!"

Strange to say, just as the curly head began to rest very wearily on the dimpled hand, and the eyelids to droop very heavily over the blue eyes, Christine saw the snowy cloud floating towards her window.

As it drew nearer, and nearer, she saw it was shaped like a boat, and that it was guided by a beautiful being, so beautiful that Christine felt sure it must be a Dream.

As the cloud boat touched the window, the Dream floated in and stood by the little bed.

"Poor child, you are tired," murmured the Dream, wrapping a soft, white mantle of sleep around Christine; and then a feeling of rest and peace fell over the child, like a charm.

Tenderly the Dream lifted her into the waiting boat and they floated away from the dark, shadowed earth.

"Oh, this is splendid!" cried Christine, as a breeze sprang up and bore them swiftly along, while the earth below vanished into a speck and then disappeared.

"Where shall we go? asked the Dream.

"I would like to go to the Evening Star," replied Christine. "Is it very far away?"

"Oh, no, we will soon reach the Evening Star."

As the Dream spoke, Christine saw that they were approaching a beautiful land, which shone like a silver island in the blue sea of the sky.

"This is the star where Music holds her court," continued the Dream, "attended by all Sweet Melodies, who learn of her their beautiful mission on earth, for Melodies, like ministering angels, are ever singing with the joyous, sighing with the sad-hearted, and telling earth's children of a higher happier life."

"Does Music ever love poor little children?" asked Christine with a sigh.

"Music loves all who love her," replied the Dream. "Even the poor may have their lives made great and beautiful if they love Music."

"I am so glad!" exclaimed Christine, "for I love Music dearly."

"Christine, have you ever noticed a strange stillness falling over the world at the twilight hour?" asked the Dream.

"I have noticed it often," said Christine. "Tell me, dear Dream, why is it?"

"I have heard," said the Dream, speaking softly lest the breeze should hear, "that this is the hour when the winds love to steal away to this star, and practice together their grand harmonies; and here, too, the breezes chat over their morning and evening hymns. It has been whispered among the trees that the lark learns, in this star, his most charming carols, for he is often seen to drop down from the sky in the morning. Some babbling brook has said that even rain drops tune their crystal bells in Music's court."

"O, I am so glad we are going there!" and Christine could say no more for wonder, as they neared the shore.

It was not strange that this star had always shone with such a silvery light, for it was a silver world. Silver mountains, silver valleys, silver rocks, streams and trees gave the land a strange unearthly beauty; for the star was different from the glory of the earth.

Christine wondered still more, as she wandered with the beautiful Dream over the fair fields, and by the clear streams, whose waters rippled musically over silver sands, and under trees whose silver leaves were stirred with twinkling murmurs. The flowers of this land were very lovely, but all pure white, as though they had grown and bloomed in moonlight.

Most wonderful of all, the flowers, the streams, the trees, had voices which mingled together in low, sweet carols as they passed by. Even the birds in the trees above, warbled out their joyous thoughts in words.

Now all these things filled little Christine's heart with gladness as she longed to return in the cloud-boat, and bring her father and mother and little Franz to this lovely land where they could all be happy together.

But before Christine could utter this wish she heard a far-off murmur as of many voices, and the Dream cried joyfully, "Lo! Music comes, attended by all sweet Melodies."

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are always pointed for relief, the discoverer believes he has exhibited to Astonishing power of Nature's most wonderful agents in the cure of disease. God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, that were ever before confined in one medicine. Evidence of this fact can be found in the great variety of forms in which the cases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and Consumption, in its early stages, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians have pronounced it the greatest medical discovery of the age. Even in the last stages of these cases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and Consumption, in its early stages, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians have pronounced it the greatest medical discovery of the age. Even in the last stages of these diseases, when the lungs are half destroyed by the ulcerating disease, it arrests the progress of the disease, heals the ulcers, and restores the patient to perfect health. In all diseases of the throat, such as Chronic Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Coughs, Asthma, Hoarseness, Catarrh, and kindred affections, it is unequaled. It is also the best remedy known for

Liver Complaint,

As a remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, and after a few doses you feel better. Appetite returns, food tastes and is healthy. For the cure of Habitual Constipation of the bowels it has never failed, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise.

THE QUEEN

THE AMERICAN

BUTTON-HOLE OVERSEAMING

AND COMPLETE SEWING MACHINE.

The first and only BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE combined that has made its advent in this or any other country.

The following reasons are given why this is the best.

Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do, sewing from the finest to the coarsest material, hemming, felling, corded beading, binding gathering and sewing on, at the same time ruffling, quilting, etc., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making as fine a pearl as by the hand.

3. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment.

4. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet hole.

5. Because it can do over-hand seaming, by which sheets, pillow cases and the like are sewed over and over.

6. Because the best mechanics pronounce it the best finished and made on the best principle of any machine manufactured.—It has no springs to break; nothing to get out of order.

7. Because it is two machines in one. A first-class WORKING and SEWING MACHINE combined.

No other Machine can accomplish the kind of sewing stated in Nos. 2, 3, 4, and 5.

Parties using a family sewing machine want a WHOLE MACHINE, one without all the improvements.

It is to last a LIFETIME, and therefore one is wanted that will do the most work, and do it the best; and this machine can do several kinds of sewing not done on ANY OTHER MACHINE, besides doing every kind that all others can do

The American or Plain Sewing Machine.

(Without the button-hole parts), does all that is done on the Combination except button-hole and over-seaming.

AGENTS! QUICK! or you will miss choice of territory, (there is a rush for it) on DIO LEWIS' last and greatest work.

OUR DIGESTION,

or, MY JOLLY FRIEND'S SECRET.

It is by odds the most taking and saleable book in the field. 1 It is on a vitally important subject. 2 It is by America's most popular writer on health. 3 It is, for the price, the largest and handsomest book ever sold by subscription. Agents, the people are eager for such a book and will urge you to bring it to them. Write for terms, &c., free.
